- 5) Provide employees with a set of expectations.

2.2 Policy Statement

The employees of UNB are our most valuable resource, and for that reason, their health and safety are of paramount concern. UNB will not tolerate any drug or alcohol use which imperils the health and well-being of its employees or community members or threatens its business. The use of illegal drugs and abuse of other controlled substances, on or off duty, is inconsistent with the expectations of character that UNB holds for all of its employees. Employees who use illegal drugs or abuse other controlled substances (such as alcohol and marijuana) on or off duty tend to be less productive, less reliable, and prone to greater absenteeism which results in the potential for increased cost, delay, and risk to the business.

UNB is a drug and alcohol-free workplace. As such, the use of non-prescribed drugs, alcohol and marijuana during work hours is strictly prohibited. UNB prides itself on providing a safe working environment for all of its employees. Employees under the influence of drugs or alcohol on the job can pose serious safety and health risks both to themselves, coworkers and community. To help ensure a safe, healthy workplace, UNB reserves the right to prohibit certain items and substances from being brought on to, consumed on or being present on the premises. UNB also prohibits any employee from reporting to work, or working with any measurable level of illegal (or non-prescription) drugs, alcohol, marijuana, or other controlled substance which might affect the employee's ability to work safely. This includes prescription drugs and medicinal marijuana that may alter an employee's ability to ensure the safety of him/herself and others.

All employees must report to work in a fit condition.

2.3 Prohibited Behaviour

The following are strictly prohibited, and may incur disciplinary action up to, and including termination of employment, and any legal ramifications consistent with the necessary involvement of law enforcement agencies.

- 1) UNB employees shall not be under the influence of any non-prescribed drugs, marijuana, or alcohol during work hours while they are on Band premises, operating a Band vehicle, or are in the act of conducting UNB business regardless of location.
- 2) The use, possession, sale, manufacture or dispensation of any illegal drug, alcohol, marijuana, or associated paraphernalia, during work hours.
- 3) The use of alcohol, marijuana, or illicit narcotics off UNB premises during work hours that adversely affects the employee's work performance, his/her own safety or the safety of others at work, or UNB regard or reputation in the community.
- 4) Failure to adhere to the requirements of any drug or alcohol treatment or counseling program in which the employee is enrolled.
- 5) Failure to report to management the use of any prescribed or medically approved drug which may alter the employee's ability to safely perform his/her duties.

Any illegal drugs or drug paraphernalia will be turned over to the appropriate law enforcement agency and may result in criminal prosecution.

2.4 Reasonable Suspicion of Impairment

At no time will an employee be permitted to work in a state of alcohol or drug impairment. If an employee reports for work while impaired or consumes alcohol (outside the conditions outlined in this policy) or drugs while at work she/he will be sent home, without pay, for the remainder of the workday.

These characteristics include, but are not limited to slurred speech, unsteady/abnormal walking, the odor of alcohol, glazed and/or bloodshot eyes, disruptive and uncharacteristic behaviour, avoidance of direct conversations, and appearance out of character.

Reasonable suspicion may also relate to any involvement in a workplace accident. Reasonable suspicion must be documented at or near the time of the observation. In the event that an employee meets the criteria for being deemed reasonably suspected the employee will be escorted off of the premises.

2.5 Inspections

UNB reserves the right to inspect any and all property on its premises for the presence of drugs, alcohol or other contraband. UNB also reserves the right to require its employees to cooperate with any searches of their work area, or property that might be used to conceal drugs, alcohol or other contraband. Employees found to be in possession of such contraband, or who refuse to cooperate in these inspections may be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment.

2.6 Substance Dependency

UNB understands that certain individuals may develop a chemical dependency to certain substances, which may be defined as a disease. UNB promotes the early diagnosis of this disease, and encourages employees with a dependency on alcohol or drugs to pursue medical, and/or psychological treatment.

Employees are not excused from their duties as a result of their dependencies. Any employee who suspects that he/she might have an emerging drug or alcohol problem is expected to seek appropriate treatment promptly. Any employee who is seeking treatment for drug or alcohol abuse, regardless of whether or not the abuse has resulted in discipline or has impacted work performance, may request a Leave of Absence in order to undergo treatment.

UNB defines a rehabilitated drug user or alcoholic, or any individual engaged in a supervised drug or alcoholism rehabilitation program that is no longer using drugs or alcohol, as an employee with a disability. As such, UNB will consider the application of an individual who has formerly been in violation of the drug and alcohol policy, if the candidate can show evidence of rehabilitation. However, the employee is responsible for adhering to UNB's Agreement for the Continuation of Employment within this Policy.

All medical information shall be kept confidential by UNB.

2.7 Employee Expectations

2.7.1 Directors/Management

- 1) Shall identify any situations that may cause concern regarding an employee's ability to safely perform their job functions.
- 2) When necessary, shall remove from the premises any employee who is suspected of being in violation of the provisions of this policy. In the event that the suspicion is questionable, management shall err on the side of caution and act in the best interests of the Band.
- 3) Escort any employee in violation of this agreement from Band premises, using a safe and efficient manner. If the employee is suspected of being impaired, he/she should not be put behind the wheel of a car. The affected employee should have arrangements for safe transportation to their home or to the hospital made for them.
- 4) Conduct any searches, or investigations regarding suspected violations of this policy.

2.7.2 Employees and Volunteers

- 1) All employees are expected to abide by the provisions of this policy.
- 2) In the event that an off-duty employee is requested to come in to work, it is their responsibility to refuse the request and ask that the request be directed to another person if the employee is unfit due to the influence of alcohol or other drugs.

- 3) Any employee convicted of, or who pleads no contest to any substance related offense must inform UNB within five (5) days of the conviction or plea. Failure to do so will result in disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment. In the event of an employee's conviction or plea to charges relating to the manufacture, possession, sale, use, distribution, receipt, or transportation of any substance, UNB will determine whether disciplinary action will be taken, including the appropriateness of continued employment.

2.8 Legal Compliance and Policy Interpretation

The provisions of this policy are subject to federal, provincial, or local laws that may apply from time to time, and these policies shall be read and interpreted to be consistent with the laws applicable to discrimination on the basis of a physical or mental disability.

5.1 Policy Intent

No conflict should exist between the private interests of an employee and their duty to the UNB. It is the employee's responsibility both to avoid outside interests which might influence their judgment, and to bring potential conflicts of interest to the attention of their direct supervisor and/or the Band Administrator or Director of External Relations.

More specifically, all employees must disclose to their immediate supervisor any direct interest, financial or personal, that could reasonably be construed by a reasonable person to be a conflict of interest in that the employee might receive or be given a favorable decision in their department as a result of their employment with UNB.

The immediate supervisor shall review any potential or actual conflicts of interest and take the appropriate course of actions to protect the integrity of both the employee(s) and the Band.

In addition to disclosing the employee's private interests that may be in conflict, the employee shall disclose any interest of an immediate family member or relative. (See "Terms and Definitions").

Failure of an employee to bring to the attention of their immediate supervisor any outside interests which have the potential to create a conflict of interest shall be viewed as a breach of appropriate conduct and subject to discipline.

- 3) For the purposes of this policy, immediate family members are defined in the “Terms and Definitions”.

5.2.2 Employee Relationships

- 1) Employees engaging in romantic relationships and employees that become married or live in the same household may continue their employment with UNB provided that there is neither a direct or indirect managerial/subordinate relationship between the employees, or a conflict of interest, real or perceived, created as a result of the relationship.
- 2) In the event that either a managerial/subordinate, or conflict of interest issue arise, UNB will work with the employees to accommodate them in a reasonable fashion. Possible resolution may require one of the employees to transfer to another position within the Band. If this is not possible, one of the employees must resign.
- 3) This section shall be interpreted, where required, to be subject to the Financial Administration Law as it applies to members of Chief and Council.

5.3 Reporting a Conflict of Interest

The report shall be presented for review to law enforcement officials or legal counsel, as necessary.

6.2.6 Report Handling Procedures

The appropriate authority shall advise the Complainant and the Respondent of the resolution of any investigation conducted under this Policy. A copy of the investigative findings shall be provided in writing to the Complainant and the Respondent.

In all cases, the UNB's Personnel department shall retain the findings report for a minimum of 3 years or for as long as any administrative or legal action arising out of the complaint is pending.

6.2.7 Confidentiality

All records of sexual harassment reports and subsequent investigations are considered confidential and will not be disclosed to anyone except to the extent required by law.

UNB will do everything it can to protect the privacy of the individuals involved and to ensure that the Complainant and the Respondent are treated fairly and respectfully. UNB will protect this privacy so long as doing so remains consistent with the enforcement of this Policy and adherence to the law.

6.2.8 Assurance against Retaliation

This Policy encourages employees to freely express – in a responsible and orderly fashion – their thoughts, opinions, and feelings regarding sexual harassment complaints.

Retaliation by the Respondent or anyone acting on behalf of the Respondent against the Complainant is strictly prohibited and will result in appropriate disciplinary or corrective action. Retaliation by the Respondent, or anyone acting on behalf of the Respondent, against any witness providing information about a sexual harassment report, is also strictly prohibited.

Retaliation by the Complainant or anyone acting on behalf of the Complainant against the Respondent is strictly prohibited and will result in appropriate disciplinary or corrective action.

Retaliation by the Complainant, or anyone acting on behalf of the Complainant, against any witness providing information about a sexual harassment report, is also strictly prohibited.

Acts of retaliation include (but are not limited to) interference, coercion, threats, and restraint.

This Sexual Harassment Policy must never be used to bring fraudulent or malicious complaints against employees. Any complaint made in bad faith, if demonstrated as being such through convincing evidence, will result in disciplinary or corrective action being taken against the individual lodging the fraudulent or malicious complaint.

6.2.9 Procedures for Handling Complaints of Sexual Harassment

Once the Complainant lodges a complaint with his/her supervisor or the appropriate authority, a discussion will take place that shall be kept confidential, to the extent allowed by the law. If desired by the Complainant, no written record will be kept of this initial discussion. During this discussion, the recipient of the complaint will explain all options available to the Complainant. If the Complainant wishes to proceed further with his or her complaint, the Complainant must then provide a written statement regarding the alleged sexual harassment.

6.2.10 Informal Procedures

If desired, the Complainant may attempt to resolve the matter directly with the Respondent. The Complainant must report the resolution, or lack thereof, to the appropriate authority.

The appropriate authority may notify the Respondent of the complaint, keeping all such communication confidential. The appropriate authority may then implement whatever steps are necessary to create an informal resolution that is acceptable to both the Complainant and Respondent.

If an informal resolution of the complaint is achieved, no record of the complaint will be entered in the Respondent's personnel records. However, the appropriate authority will record the occurrence of the complaint and the informal resolution achieved. Again, this record will remain confidential.

6.2.11 Formal Procedures

In the case of formal complaints, the Respondent shall have 10 working days to respond, in writing, to the allegation. The Respondent's statement, written on Band letterhead, must answer – with specific responses – to each complaint, either admitting, denying, or explaining the allegations against them. The Respondent must sign his or her statement, which will then be attached to the original complaint.

If a formal hearing is warranted, the appropriate authority will conduct a hearing within 30 working days after receiving the request.

6.2.12 Disciplinary Actions

Upon concluding that an instance of sexual harassment has indeed occurred, the Respondent will be subject to disciplinary action, which may result in suspension of duties, or outright termination of employment. Disciplinary actions imposed by the appropriate authority will be determined on the basis of the facts of each case and the extent of harm to UNB's interests and business goals.

6.2.13 Timelines

Complainants are always encouraged to file a complaint immediately after an alleged incident of sexual harassment. Nevertheless, UNB is aware that such a timely response may not always be possible, due to feelings of humiliation or fear on the Complainant's part. Individuals who believe that they have experienced sexual harassment should lodge a complaint within 30 days following an alleged incident. Under extreme circumstances, this timeline may be extended to 60 days at the request of the Complainant; however, it is the responsibility of the Complainant to show good reasons for this extension.

6.2.14 Records

Records of all formal and informal resolutions, hearings, and reviews will be kept by the Personnel department, except where otherwise stated in this Policy. The records will only be available to managerial members of the Administration, and only in the following circumstances:

6.3 Anti-Harassment and Anti-Violence Policy

6.3.1 Purpose

UNB is committed to building and preserving a safe and healthy working environment for its employees. In pursuit of this goal, UNB does not condone and will not tolerate acts of harassment and/or violence against or by any UNB employee. As such, this policy prohibits physical or verbal threats – with or without the use of weapons – intimidation, or violence in the workplace to minimize risk of injury or harm resulting from violence to UNB employees.

It is also a violation of UNB's Anti-Harassment and Anti-Violence Policy for anyone to knowingly make a false complaint of harassment or violence, or to provide false information about a complaint. Individuals who violate this Policy are subject to disciplinary and/or corrective action, up to and including termination of employment.

6.3.2 Harassment Definition

Harassment is defined as any interaction between individuals that can be characterized as unwelcome, intimidating, bullying, violent, or any form of misconduct. UNB rejects and entirely disapproves of all harassment based on the grounds of: race (i.e. color, ethnicity, origin, nationality, and descent), sex, marital status, age, sexual orientation, gender history, religious beliefs, political convictions, disability, or medical condition. Such acts include:

- 1) Inappropriate physical conduct;
- 2) Creating an intimidating or offensive working environment; or
- 3) Creating a degrading, humiliating, or hostile work environment.

Violence is defined as any interaction or act of aggression or hostility between individuals that involves: causing physical injury to another person; the utterance of threatening remarks; creation of a reasonable fear of injury; subjecting another individual to emotional distress; damaging employer or employee property; the possession of a firearm or dangerous weapon while on UNB property or while conducting UNB business; harassing surveillance (such as stalking); bringing weapons into the workplace.

Lateral Violence is defined as displaced violence; that is anger and rage that is directed towards members within a marginalized or oppressed community rather than towards the oppressors of the community. (i.e., one's peers rather than adversaries).

6.3.4 Threats Definition

Threats of violence or harassment are considered serious and will be treated accordingly. Threatening behaviour includes, but is not limited to: throwing objects at another person; verbal prediction of harm directed towards another individual or his/her property; making threatening or menacing gestures; obsessive behaviour (e.g. unprofessional and/or excessive unwelcome romantic interest); any such behaviour indicating that the individual may be irrational or mentally ill and poses a danger to him/herself or others; escalation of unacceptable behaviour within the workplace (e.g. behaviour triggered by personal circumstances such as an impending divorce, custody battle, etc.).

- 1) Firearms such as pistols, revolvers, shotguns, rifles, that are not required for the performance of job duties

6.3.6 Anti-Violence Policy and Procedures

UNB employees are prohibited from engaging in any violent or harassing behaviour towards others. Any physical, verbal, or visual act – with or without a weapon, as defined above – that threatens, intimidates, creates fear, or has the purpose of interfering with an employee's job duties, or similarly creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work environment, is forbidden.

- 1) Managers, supervisors, or the Band Administrator will take immediate action to resolve any situation that involves harassment or violent behaviour. This includes, but is not limited to, calling 911 for immediate police assistance.
- 2) Incidents that constitute criminal acts (whether indictable or summary) will be referred to the local police department or other policing agency.
- 3) Complainants are encouraged to file a complaint immediately after an alleged incident of harassment or violence. Nevertheless, UNB is aware that such a timely response may not always be possible, due to humiliation or fear.

- 4) The Band Administrator or the Director of External Relations will assist employees, managers, and supervisors in investigating and preparing documentation for acts and incidents of harassment or violent behaviour.
- 5) This policy encourages employees to freely express – in a responsible and orderly fashion – their thoughts, opinions, and feelings regarding harassment or violence complaints. In no case shall any employee who reports threats or acts of violence be retaliated against through disciplinary action by UNB or the Respondent. Acts of retaliation include (but are not limited to) interference, coercion, threats, physical restraint, workload reassignments, denial of promotion, or any other manner of retribution. Any acts of retaliation must be reported immediately to the Band Administrator.
- 6) Should an employee be harassed or threatened by an individual from outside the workplace, and have reason to believe this person may harm them in any way, the employee is required to report concerns to his or her supervisor.

Such information shall be kept confidential.
- 8) If any visitor to the UNB workplace is seen with a weapon (or is known to possess one), or makes a verbal threat and/or assault against an employee or another individual, employee witnesses are required to immediately contact the police, emergency response services, their immediate supervisor, and the Human Resources Department.
- 9) All records of harassment and violence reports, and subsequent investigations, are considered confidential and will not be disclosed to anyone except to the extent required by law. UNB will do everything it can to protect the privacy of the individuals involved and to ensure that complainants and respondents are treated fairly and respectfully. UNB will protect this privacy so long as doing so remains consistent with the enforcement of this policy and adherence to the law.
- 10) This Anti-Harassment and Anti-Violence Policy must never be used to bring fraudulent or malicious complaints against employees. Any complaint made in bad faith, if demonstrated as being such through convincing evidence, will result in disciplinary or corrective action being taken against the individual lodging the fraudulent or malicious complaint.
- 11) In cases where criminal proceedings are forthcoming, UNB will assist police agencies, attorneys, insurance companies, and courts to the fullest extent.
- 12) Disciplinary or corrective action may be taken, up to and including suspension of duties or termination of employment, for any violations of this policy.

Cross Reference: Information Management Policies

UNB is responsible for the actions of its staff and the legal implications of unethical use of its hardware, software, network, e-mail and internet connection (herein referred to as “Systems”).

The purpose of this policy is to provide guidelines so that UNB Staff may use these resources in ways that maximize employee productivity, are responsible and respectful of all legal issues and avoid network disruptions.

7.1 General

UNB acknowledges that these Systems are an efficient means of completing their objectives. These Systems may only be used by authorized individuals and primarily to accomplish tasks related to their jobs. Occasional and reasonable use for personal reasons is permitted, provided it does not interfere with work performance and deadlines.

The use of the Systems for personal gain, personal business, and to commit fraud or to display or transmit any materials that are discriminatory, defamatory, harassing, insulting, offensive, pornographic or obscene is strictly prohibited.

7.2 Internet Usage

The internet is a massive global network offering access to unlimited information and resources. The internet is not controlled by any one organization and the source of information obtained cannot always be guaranteed.

Accessing, downloading or saving materials from the internet must be in accordance with internal policies and must adhere to all copyright restrictions.

7.3 Email Usage

Email is an efficient and prompt communication tool provided to staff to assist them in conducting day-to-day business on behalf of the Band. All email must be professional in nature and comply with all related policies.

No one may solicit, promote or advertise any other organization, product or service through the use of email or anywhere else using the Systems. All email sent externally shall have the standard disclaimer automatically attached. The following is the standard footer for all UNB emails.

“This E-mail and any files transmitted with are confidential and intended solely for the use of the individual or entity to whom they are addressed. If you have received this E-mail in error please notify the sender and the System Administrator. Please note that any views or opinions presented in this E-mail are solely those of the author and do not necessarily represent those of the Upper Nicola Band. Finally, the recipient should check this E-mail and any attachments for the presence of viruses. The Upper Nicola Band accepts no liability for any damage caused by any virus transmitted by this E-mail.”

7.4 Chat, Newsgroups, ListSerts and Forums

The use of such services is restricted. Chat rooms, newsgroups, ListSerts, forums, and similar mediums of communication should only be accessed and used within the limits of this policy, the employee’s job description, and UNB’s mandate.

7.5 Instant Messenger Services (IMS)

IMS is becoming an ever-increasing means of communication, both personal and business related. The use of such systems is allowed for business use only. Facebook Messenger is not to be used for communication between employees or to supervisors in a business setting.

Screen names must be professional in nature and IMS must only be used according to internal policies.

7.6 Peer to Peer Applications (P2P)

P2P software is not to be used under any circumstances; although many materials have been placed on P2P networks with a creator’s consent, much of the material had been duplicated from copyrighted materials and goes against internal policy.

7.7 Right to Access

Management has the right to access or monitor all electronic data or records created, received or stored on UNB Systems without prior notification. This includes but is not limited to, internet traffic, email, instant messaging and P2P applications. All information generated, replicated, processed and stored by staff for the duration of the employment relationship with the Band becomes the property of the UNB.

In the event access is required all managers must get prior approval from the Band Administrator.

Staff will ensure adequate protection and control procedures for data to which they have been granted the ability to create, modify, view, copy, download or delete.

7.9 Data Access

Only individuals with proper authorization may access data pertinent to their work. Staff requiring access to additional data must ensure they have prior appropriate authorization from their manager.

7.10 Data Backup

The ongoing availability of data is vital to the successful delivery of our programs and services. Data can be destroyed by various means such as systems malfunctions, accidental or even intentional means. Adequate scheduled backups will allow data to be readily recovered as necessary. In order to minimize possible loss or corruption of data, we must ensure that data is adequately backed up by performing at least a minimal data backup periodically using external hard drives, CD-ROMs or other means of offsite storage. Copies of your backup will be stored in a secure location separate from the primary location where the data is stored.

7.11 Security

UNB is responsible for the actions of its staff and the legal implication of unethical use and access of its systems.

The purpose of this policy is to provide guidelines so the UNB staff may utilize these resources in ways that maximize employee productivity and minimize security gaps.

UNB has realized that to effectively protect their Systems from unauthorized access, alteration, disclosure or destruction and to guarantee that data and programs are readily available to all authorized members of the staff; they require a level of protection. UNB also realizes that while no procedures will provide total security, all staff has the responsibility to minimize the risks.

7.12 System Access

Employees may have access to information for which they have authorization including, but not limited to, data and e-mail.

To ensure an employee's workstation is secure in his or her absence, logging off, a password protected screensaver, or turning off the monitor should be considered on leaving his or her office.

To protect against loss of data due to power surges, power outages, etc. employees are urged to turn their computers off at the end of each working day.

7.13 Passwords

In cases where a password is important such as email systems or workstation access, including screensavers, individuals should ensure the passwords are difficult to guess but easy to remember.

If a password has been assigned, the employee must change it before continuing use of the system. To aid in the creation of a password guidelines include:

1. Use five or more characters, including upper- and lower-case characters
2. Deliberately misspell words
3. Take the first letter for each word of a phrase
4. Include at least two numbers, or substitute numbers for letters (e.g., substitute 3 for E).

Individuals should make sure their password is safe, this includes making sure not to write passwords down or let anyone see you enter your password. Change the password every few months and never reuse an old password.

7.14 System Updates

Whenever possible, the installation of approved software updates must be performed. This may be set up as an automated feature and it should be set to be completed outside office hours to minimize any disruptions.

7.15 Virus Protection

Virus protection is most effective if every workstation and server in the office has up to date antivirus software installed and is actively monitoring all incoming and outgoing activities to help control infection.

Viruses are able to enter the computer in various ways including email, downloading from the internet and removable media (CD, DVD, floppy).

Computer systems owned by UNB will run up to date anti-virus software that must remain active at all times. The primary user of a computer system is responsible for keeping the computer system up to date.

Software is only to be installed on Band hardware and is bound to licensing agreements that must be adhered to in all aspects and may not be used otherwise. Software obtained from any other source which could present security and legal threats is strictly prohibited.

Backup copies of legitimate software can be made in accordance with licensing agreements. Backup copies may not leave Band premises or be installed in contravention of the original licensing agreement.

7.19 Acquisition of Software

UNB will make available adequate copies of legally acquired software to meet all justifiable requirements of staff's day-to-day work. This software will be provided in a timely fashion for all of our computers.

Software purchases must be pre-approved and follow organizational guidelines. Shareware, demonstration or trial versions of software may not be installed without prior approval and must be installed according to their licensing agreement.

Only licensed software may be utilized on UNB computers and communication devices. No employee shall introduce any form of unlicensed software, shareware, or other software without the prior and express consent of the Band Administrator. Any employee who is caught offending this provision will be subject to immediate dismissal for cause.

If an employee receives any such material, they are directed to notify their supervisor or manager so that appropriate action may be taken such as blocking the offending source.

7.22 Audits and Enforcement

UNB has the authority to enforce this policy – this may include random audits, announced or unannounced, of hardware to ensure proper software use, and/or the use of open Domain Name Server (DNS).

In the event of employee violation of this policy, software found on UNB property for which a valid license or proof of license cannot be determined will be removed and disciplinary or corrective actions, up to and including termination, may result.

PERSONNEL

Policy #: 9. Working Alone Policy

Date Approved:

Dates of Amendment:

Cross Reference:

9.1 Policy Intent

UNB is committed to providing a safe workplace and if our employees are required to work alone or in isolation such as in working in circumstances where assistance would not be readily available to the employee a) in case of emergency or b) in case the employee is injured or in ill health, the intent of this policy is to ensure that:

1. Employees are physically capable of performing their duties in a manner that does not jeopardize the safety of any person and/or property;
2. This Policy addresses both in case of emergency situations and in case the employee is injured or in ill health;

This Policy Shall:

- Outline UNB policy on Working Alone;
- Detail behavior that is prohibited by the Band;
- Discuss UNB policy regarding Working Alone;
- Provide management and employees with a set of expectations;
- Provide procedures for checking the well-being of employees working in isolation.

9.2 Policy Statement

The employees of UNB are our most valuable resource, and for that reason, their health and safety are of paramount concern. UNB will not tolerate any employee, after being made aware of this policy and possible assistance available, continuing to work alone unsafely. UNB will be in compliance with any statutes that regulate workplace safety procedures. The general duties of an employer/supervisor to workers include the duty to ensure the health and safety of all workers working for that employer. In the situation where UNB requires the employee to work alone, the employer must do a hazard assessment where there is a risk of injury to workers from hazards or violence and take the necessary steps to eliminate or minimize those risks.

9.3 Prohibited Behaviour

If this policy is not followed, the offending employee and their supervisor may incur disciplinary action up to, and including termination of employment, and any legal ramifications consistent with the necessary involvement of law enforcement agencies.

9.4 Discussion of UNB Policy of Working Alone

At no time will an employee be permitted to work alone without a written safety plan in place. Some points that workers and their supervisors need to ask are;

- Presence of others- Are other people in the vicinity?
- Awareness- Will other persons capable of providing assistance be aware of the worker's need?
- Willingness- Is it reasonable to expect those other persons will provide assistance?
- Timeliness- Will assistance be provided within a reasonable period of time?
- Communication Systems- What means of communication can be provided to the employees? i.e. phone, radio or personal alarm

9.5 Set of Expectations

UNB will ensure that all employees that Work Alone and their supervisors have read and understand this policy. Specific identified duties are outline below;

9.5.1 Management

Hazard Identification- Before the worker is assigned to work alone or in isolation, the employer/supervisor must identify any hazards to the worker.

Before a worker starts a work assignment with a hazard identified under subsection (1), the employer/supervisor must take measures.

The employer/supervisor must either eliminate, or if not possible, minimize the risk from the hazard

The employer/supervisor must minimize the risk from the hazard to the lowest level practicable using engineering controls, administrative controls or a combination of engineering and administrative controls. Engineering controls are physical arrangement, design or alteration of workstations, equipment, materials, production facilities or other aspects of the physical environment.

Administrative controls are the provision, use and scheduling of work activities and resources in the workplace including planning, organizing, staffing and coordinating for the purpose of controlling risk.

The risk assessment process is a step-by-step process that identifies the nature and type of hazard which is then followed by an assessment of the likelihood of such hazards occurring. This assessment will help the employer/supervisor set priorities and identify tasks to ensure that effective controls can be implemented.

Risk Assessment Process

- Gather information on previous incidents and experiences within the last 3 years.
- Determine the hazard control measures already in place.
- Obtain staff and Joint Occupational Health and Safety committee input.
- Inspect the workplace for hazards.
- Analyze the information.

Factors to be considered;

- Occupations and locations that are higher risk.
- Type of task may carry greater risk.

- Type of foreseeable interactions may place workers at greater risk.
- Workplace layout, location, plants and wildlife, climate, age, training and physical health of worker, type of equipment, tools, supplies may present a risk.

Employees

All employees are expected to abide by the provisions of this policy.

All employees are expected to report hazardous situations to their supervisor immediately.

9.6 Procedures for checking the well-being of employees working in isolation.

The employer must develop and implement a written procedure for checking the well-being of a worker assigned to work alone or in isolation. This procedure must include the time interval between checks and the procedure to follow in case the worker cannot be contacted, including provision for emergency rescue. A person must be designated to establish contact with the worker at predetermined intervals and the results must be recorded by that person. Also, a check at the end of the work shift must be done. Time intervals for checking a worker's well-being must be developed in consultation with the employee assigned to work alone or in isolation. Check -in methods include;

- Call in systems
- Externally monitored panic alarm devices
- Internally monitored panic alarm devices

Check in methods for remote workers include;

- Wireless satellite hand-held alerting and tracking devices
- Satellite phones
- Radio transmitters
- Crew contact

This contact practice must be limited to employees only as using non-workers to do check ins, such as family members, raises issues given that these individuals are not accountable to WorkSafeBC/OHS or the employer.

9.7 Legal Compliance

The Provisions of this policy are subject to any federal, provincial or local laws that may prohibit or restrict their applicability.

10.2 Attendance

UNB is committed to providing quality service. It is important for every employee to work as a team to attain this goal. Consistent and regular attendance, punctuality and timely return from scheduled breaks will help ensure UNB succeeds.

All hours are to be pre-approved before being worked. Lieu hours will be scheduled at a time that is mutually agreeable to the employee and UNB.

Employees may “cash out” any banked lieu time by providing UNB with written notification of their desire to be paid out. UNB will ensure that employees who “cash out” banked lieu time will be provided with overtime pay for the banked hours they are cashing out on their next regularly scheduled pay. Employees may choose to “cash out” banked lieu time not more often than once per month.

The purpose of this policy is to create and enforce all guidelines and procedures for the travel-related expenses of UNB employees for business purposes. It is this policy's intent to ensure that employees who travel on behalf of UNB business are reimbursed for reasonable travel expenses. This policy is also meant to ensure the fair and equitable treatment of employees by preventing the loss of personal financial funds, as well as protecting UNB from abuse of organizational funding or business-related travel.

- 1) All staff travel must be authorized by the department managers, or Band Administrator; travel for the Band Administrator must be approved by Chief and Council.
- 2) Employees who are required to travel on UNB business must be appropriately insured, and will be granted allowances for expenses incurred, at the rates established from time to time by Chief and Council.

Employees with six months of service may request in writing a change to schedule or location. In writing, the employee must include:

- Employee's name
- Date of request
- Description of requested arrangements
- Requested start and end dates
- Expected effects on employer

Employers must respond to the request in writing, whether they approve or deny the request. The reasons for the denial may be based on one of the following decisions:

- The requested change would have a negative impact on the quality or quantity of work and/or the ability to meet customer demand or performance in the employee's workplace
- The employer cannot reorganize work among existing employees or hire more employees to manager the requested change
- there would not be enough work available for the employee if the requested change was granted

The employer has 30 days to respond and provide one of 4 possible responses in writing:

- Approve as is
- Approve in part
- Propose an alternative
- Deny

If the request is denied, justification should be included in the response to the employee.

The Band Administrator does not have the authority to hire a band member indebted to the Band unless that person has made arrangements to have a mutually acceptable amount deducted through payroll deductions by completing a payroll deduction form.

The Band Administrator with the advice of the manager has the authority to promote or reassign a permanent employee to fill a full-time position vacancy or a permanent part-time position. Staffing updates will be provided to Chief and Council for information.

11.3 Coordination of Hiring

Each department manager, in conjunction with the Human Resources Manager, shall coordinate the hiring process for hire within their department. This includes the review/development of the job description; drafting of the selection criteria; advertising; recommendations of salary or wage placement and the development of written offer of employment.

11.6 Hiring Criteria

The successful candidate will be the person most qualified and suitable to fulfill the requirements of the position.

When two equally suitable applicants are identified for the vacancy, the following consideration (in the order listed) may be applied to make the final decision on hiring:

- i. Current employees of the Upper Nicola Band
- ii. An Indigenous person.

An important part of our philosophy is to provide UNB staff with opportunities to grow and succeed. Therefore, UNB prefers to encourage internal applicants wherever appropriate. All applications are assessed on merit (that is ability, performance, experience, training, education, and potential to master increased responsibilities,) as determined by the managers and Band Administrator /Director of External Relations.

When the hiring decision is finalized and the successful candidate has been notified, the Hiring Committee will notify the remaining candidates. If an employee applied and is not selected, the employee will be informed.

The current supervisor/manager and the new supervisor/manager will negotiate a start date. Start dates do not normally exceed four (4) weeks from the date the offer is extended, except in extenuating circumstances. The current supervisor/manager will complete a Change Form and forward it to Payroll.

11.10 Waiver of Process

The processes above may be waived if the position is to be filled for a special project of three months (3) or less. At the end of that time, the procedure as set out in above is to be followed if the job is to be continued.

This requirement is to ensure the smooth transition for the employees to receive pension benefits and to ease the transition for the UNB to ensure an ideal replacement staff is in place.

- 1) Job Descriptions
- 2) Performance Appraisals

All employees upon commencement of employment shall receive a copy of their position description. The immediate supervisor shall ensure that all employees understand their position responsibilities and level of authority, and have signed off on a copy of the current position description.

The Principal, or his/her designate, may reassign any employee to a new or existing position at any time by providing an appropriate period of notice of the change. Any other employee of N'kwala School who was employed and potentially affected at the time of the reassignment may, in writing, appeal the reassignment through the UNB dispute resolution process.

12.2 Probation

The probation period is designed to assist the employee attain the performance level required for the position while giving UNB time to evaluate the employee's suitability for the position. For better understanding, the employee will not only be assessed based upon his or her capability but also on his or her suitability in the position. All probation periods must be completed by continuous employment, if employee is on a leave exceeding a 2-week period, upon returning to work the probation period will start on the return-to-work date.

All permanent full-time and permanent part-time employees shall first commence his/her employment with a period of probation as defined in the Employment Offer.

The Band Administrator, Director of External Relations and Department Managers shall serve up to a six (6) month probationary period.

12.2.1 Performance Appraisals during Probation

The competence and progress of the employees on probation shall be monitored by the employee's supervisor, with written Performance appraisals and secondary reviews until the successful completion of the probationary period (See Operations Manual for forms). In the position that is termed "On-Call", performance reviews will be completed after either a 60-hour period worked by the employee or 6 months employment served.

12.2.2 Extension of Probation

If the required performance levels are not attained, or if problems which have been brought to the attention of the employee have not been corrected, the employee shall have the probationary period extended for the same period as the initial probation, or shall have his/her employment terminated.

12.3 Employee Performance Appraisal

Chief and Council is responsible for evaluating the performance of the Band Administrator and Director of External Relations.

Performance appraisal is a documented, interactive process involving the Management and the employee. The purpose is to provide an objective assessment of employee performance of specific tasks, measured against criteria established for such assessments. Performance appraisals are considered in employee advancement, termination, salary adjustments and other related areas.

UNB believes that performance appraisals are a valuable tool to provide the following:

- 1) Enhancing or improving performance;
- 2) Setting goals;
- 3) Fostering self-development;
- 4) Identifying responsibilities an employee is performing well;
- 5) Identifying responsibilities an employee should improve upon;

- 6) Providing information for the development of an employee training and development plan;
- 7) Determining an employee's eligibility for salary increments and promotions;
- 8) Providing information to administer employment terminations.

The performance appraisal is designed to assist both UNB and the employee. The appraisal not only gives UNB an overall view of the employee's contributions, work ethics and standards, it also provides a forum for open discussion for performance and future goals.

Performance appraisals are based on the employee's performance and how it affects the performance of the employee's department. Employee's work is evaluated on an ongoing basis as they perform the job.

Performance appraisals will use performance-based criteria based upon competency-based job descriptions for each position.

- 1) Each employee will be required to complete, with his/her supervisor(s), an employee appraisal annually. Appraisals will be completed at the end of January of each year.
- 2) This appraisal is a joint process, and the employee has the opportunity and is encouraged to participate fully.
- 3) The results of the employee appraisal will help to determine the employee's training needs, salary levels and increases, direction of supervision and in extreme cases, the employee's future with the Upper Nicola Band Administration.
- 4) In addition to the annual performance appraisal, the employee's supervisor may schedule reviews at any time. A performance review provides the employee with an opportunity to discuss any aspect of their job with their supervisor.
- 5) Once the performance appraisal has been completed, both the employee and the supervisor must then sign it. Signatures are acknowledging receipt not agreement. Originals are placed in the employee's personnel file and a copy is given to the employee.

When there is a discrepancy between the actual performance of the employee and the criteria for the competent job performance, the employee and supervisor will develop a remedial plan. In most cases the discrepancy will determine the objectives for staff development activities.

12.4 Professional Development and Training

The employer recognizes the value of professional development and training of employees and authorizes its management to create an appropriate training budget and administer, in consultation with the Band Administrator, the following:

Professional Employee Development and Training Defined – generally means, the enrollment of an employee in short-term programs, courses, or workshops for the purpose of improving a specific skill or a set of skills: with the employee performance appraisal being the primary process to determine training and development needs.

In addition to employer approved professional development, employees are encouraged to develop individual plans toward self-development.

Chief and Council will be responsible for the following as it relates to the Band Administrator and the Director of External Relations who in turn are responsible for as it relates to their direct reports:

- 1) Establishing and implementing a plan for any training of UNB's Officers or employees required to meet the UNB's future needs and requirements after taking into account succession and any anticipated changes in the UNB's activities;

- 2) Establishing and implementing a documented process
 - a. to measure the skills and competencies of the individual UNB's employees against their assigned employment responsibilities

 - c. to adjust their duties and responsibilities as necessary to reflect their respective skills and competencies.

12.5 Training Related to Positions Responsibilities

When an employee requests to take training or courses, costs, at the manager's discretion, shall be reimbursed to the employee upon successful completion of the training or course.

If the training or course is during regular work hours and required for the job, the employee shall receive his/her regular pay for the period of training. Time spent on voluntary professional development (not required for the job) outside of the regular workday and regular work week will be compensated at the manager's discretion.

UNB will request that upon returning to work, the employee who has completed the training arranges with their manager to present an informational workshop about the training received to their co-workers.

PERSONNEL

Policy #: 13. Salary Administration

Date Approved:

Dates of Amendment: May 09, 2026

Cross Reference:

The Chief and Council shall approve the annual budgets. Directors and managers are responsible for administering salaries as per the Salary Administration Policy, wage grid and approved budgets and all UNB administration policies.

Policy Intent

- 1) The UNB provides equal pay for work of an equal value and the goal is to have a total compensation program that is as comparable as possible to similar organizations of a similar size, within budgetary limitations.
- 2) All Wage and Salary costs will be contained within funding agreements and approved annual budgets.
- 3) The UNB will utilize a job evaluation / job classification system and a wage grid designed for UNB, and as updated from time to time (ideally every five years).
- 4) The wage or salary structure will be based on a grading system providing a range of pay rates for each job classification and over a period of time. The grade of each job will be based on a formal evaluation of the job’s requirements in the following areas:

SKILL	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Education & Experience • Knowledge • Problem Solving / Creativity • Communication
RESPONSIBILITY	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Financial Stewardship • Operational Effectiveness • Leadership
EFFORT	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Mental Exertion • Physical Exertion
WORKING CONDITIONS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Psychological Environment • Physical Environment

Each job is evaluated using a gender-neutral point factor comparison system that awards point values to jobs based on the degree to which the above compensable factors are required for competent performance of the job. Jobs are then assigned to a wage grade level based on their total points value.

It's important to note that job evaluation ratings are assigned based on the bona fide minimum job requirements for competent performance, and not the qualifications nor performance of any specific job incumbent, nor the requirements of similar jobs in the external talent market.

- 5) The objectives of the job evaluation process and wage grid are to:
 - Provide a systematic and objective procedure for determining the wages of staff, and any subsequent increases.
 - Be as equitable as possible, within available resources, and consistent with comparable employers in BC.
 - Support positive recruitment and retention of quality and dedicated staff and allow for career progression.
- 6) The UNB will communicate clearly, frequently and transparently with employees about our compensation programs.
- 7) Each employee is responsible for complying with all legislation pertaining to their employment including payment of appropriate taxes.
- 8) The UNB does not provide salary advances.

13.1 Wage Grid Placement Procedures

- 1) The Band Administrator and Governance Executive are responsible for the administration of the Job & Wage Classification System and to ensure that all placements and increases are in accordance with policy.
- 2) All positions will be evaluated by the Band Administrator and Governance Executive and placed on the grid using the guidelines as developed.
- 3) New employees will be placed at the appropriate level on the grid, according to their qualifications and experience. Temporary employees will generally be paid at the minimum of the grid unless their experience and responsibilities justify a different placement. The Band Administrator and Governance Executive have the authority to approve additional compensation/benefits to secure the hiring of new, specialized employees where this is in the interests of the UNB and where extenuating circumstances warrant such a decision.
- 4) If the new employee has more than the required qualifications and/or related experience set out in the posting then they may in exceptional circumstances, be placed at higher position in the appropriate salary band at the discretion of the Band Administrator and Governance Executive. In so doing, consideration should be given to the status / wages of existing employees, parity, and finances.
- 5) Employees may move up the wage grid to the maximum of their grade, based on the guidelines, but this may not be an annual adjustment.

The Wage Grid is attached as Appendix A.

13.2 Cost of Living Adjustments

Subject to budget availability and approval by the UNB Chief and Council, salary levels may be adjusted annually for cost of living at the regional consumer price index for the preceding year. Chief and Council will announce any Cost-of-Living adjustments by April 1 of each year. Any such adjustments normally take effect on April 1 of the year.

All employees are eligible to receive Cost of Living Adjustments (COLA) with the exception of employees who are on their probationary period and employees who are on short-term contracts.

13.3 Reclassifying an Existing Position

- 1) If an existing position is reclassified (i.e., there has been a significant change (increase or decrease) in responsibility, skill, effort or working conditions for the role) the revised job description will be re-evaluated. As a result, the potential outcomes include:
 - i. the wage grade and grid may remain the same;
 - ii. the position may be reclassified to a higher grade and the wage will be adjusted accordingly;
- 2) If the position is a grade lower, the employee will be "red circled" i.e., there are no increases until the appropriate wage rate is in line with the position.
- 3) Reclassified employees will be placed on the grid at their present year, and will receive increments on the anniversary of them moving to the new year.

When a manager wishes to propose / create a new job, they must follow the process outlined in the New Job Request Form. This process includes drafting a job description, for which the organization's standardized job description template should be used.

If an employee or manager believes an existing job description warrants an update, or if they believe said job warrants a re-evaluation for pay grade purposes, they must follow the process outlined in the Job Update / Re-Evaluation Request Form. This process includes proposing updates to the job description for the role in question. Employees / Managers can request the most current version of the job descriptions from HR manager.

It is the job evaluation / re-evaluation process that will determine whether a job's point value has increased significantly enough to move the job to the next wage grade/step, and not all job changes result in a point value increase.

13.4 Market Benchmarking & Wage Grid Maintenance

Each pay grade level is assigned a wage range with a minimum, midpoint and maximum base pay rates. The pay range for each grade is developed to align as closely as possible with specific target talent markets from which UNB most often attracts our talent, while also balancing funding provisions, internal equity and budgetary considerations.

Currently, UNB strives to meet the market for talent by aligning its base pay structure with First Nations organizations in the British Columbia region, as well as with school district 58 compensation rates specifically for N'kwala School jobs.

Market benchmark data will be obtained at least every five (5) years for key benchmark jobs to ensure the ongoing competitiveness of the organization's pay structure. In the intervening years, the pay structure may be adjusted to keep up with such factors as cost of living and / or forecasted wage increases within our target talent markets, if and as budgets permit.

13.5 Remedial Increase

A remedial increase is used only for employees who are paid below the minimum of their pay grade when the grid is updated. The size of such an adjustment is dependent upon the individual's current wage in relation to the minimum of the pay grade.

13.6 Acting Pay

In the event of an extended absence longer than two (2) days, the Band Administrator or Governance Executive may appoint a staff member as "Acting" in the position of the employee that is absent, and increase that staff person's salary to the Minimum Level of the 2026 UNB Wage Grade of the position of the employee that is absent, until the staff person can return to their regular duties.

13.7 Extra Time and Overtime

As UNB follows the Canada Labour Code Standards of Overtime, overtime rates are applicable after eight (8) hours in a day or forty (40) hours in a week. Employees may refuse to work overtime if the refusal is based on a need to perform family obligations as specified in the CLC.

13.7.1 Extra Time

An employee may be required by their supervisor to work more than regularly scheduled hours. Unless the total hours worked exceed the overtime provisions, extra time will be taken in lieu or if approved by the manager, paid at regular rate. Such time will be tracked on the appropriate form.

13.7.2 Authorization of Overtime

Overtime will be required by and pre-approved in writing by management using the appropriate form. Overtime is only allowed in extenuating circumstances, or when a supervisor has scheduled it i.e. Staff working a statutory holiday. Staff choosing to work extra time on their own without authorization may be subject to disciplinary action. By written agreement with the employer, employees may take 1.5 hours of time off with pay for each overtime hour worked in lieu of overtime pay. This time must be taken within three months of being earned or else paid out in accordance with overtime pay provisions. Exemptions can be made to this policy with written approval from the employees manager and the Band Administrator.

Overtime by non-salaried Directors and Managers requires pre-approval by the Band Administrator or Governance Executive.

13.7.3 Non-Management Personnel

An employee that is granted overtime may take time in lieu of overtime pay if they have signed a lieu time agreement. One hour of overtime will equal one and a half hours (1.5x) of in-lieu time. The maximum amount of time an employee may accrue in lieu (or banked) is 64 hours.

Employees may request to have banked lieu time paid out as overtime pay once per month. Lieu time must be used in the period laid out in the lieu time agreement between the employee and UNB, which shall not exceed one month. If lieu time is not used within the specified period, UNB will pay out any banked lieu time as overtime pay.

The provisions for hours worked in a workday exceeding 12 hours only apply to emergency situations. The maximum hours in a work week, may be exceeded, but only to the extent necessary to prevent serious disruption with the ordinary working maintenance or social programs which create a hardship for the membership.

13.7.4 Limitations on Overtime

Regular travel time to and from work does not constitute work or overtime.

17.3 Allotments

All Permanent Full-time employees who have successfully completed their probationary period will earn elective leave.

Elective leave pay will accumulate each pay period at 6% of the regular payroll dollars earned, to a maximum of equivalent to 15 days of pay at the employee's rate of pay at the time of calculation.

17.4 Scheduling of Elective leave

Permanent employees wishing to utilize their elective leave days must provide their immediate supervisor with written notice, at least 5 working days prior to the intended commencement of the leave, whenever possible.

The granting of elective leave will be at the option of the employee's immediate supervisor and approval, or rejection of the request will be based solely on the needs of the UNB.

An employee may not use more than 15 days of elective leave in any given 12-month period or more than five (5) days of elective leave in a row unless that additional leave is used as a result of an illness that is supported by a medical doctor's letter. In that case, the amount of elective leave used is limited only by the number of days accumulated by the employee. If an employee is absent due to illness in excess of 10 days, they will be expected to apply for Medical Employment Insurance.

If an employee has unused elective leave at the end of the year in which it was earned, it will be rolled over to the following year(s) up to a maximum of 30 days. Although the choice is the employee's it is recommended that all employees consider establishing a reserve of accumulated elective leave for use in the event of a serious accident or illness requiring an extended absence from work.

Where an employee has been absent due to illness, the employer reserves the right to require a doctor's letter confirming that the employee is fit to return to work. The employee must provide the certificate to their supervisor immediately upon the employee's return to work, if requested.

Under no circumstances, will elective leave pay be paid out without a corresponding absence from work.

Policy #: 23. Progressive Discipline Policy

Date Approved:

Dates of Amendment:

Cross Reference:

23.1 Policy Intent

UNB has adopted a policy of Progressive Discipline to ensure that employees have the opportunity to correct any performance or behavioral problems that may arise. UNB has established a set of reasonable rules and guidelines for employees to follow. These have not been put in place to restrict the freedoms of our employees, but rather they are in consideration of their safety, and the overall protection of UNB employees, property, and our business practices.

Supervisors and Managers have the responsibility to ensure that employees know what the expected standards of performance and behaviour are and must ensure monitoring practices (including annual evaluations) are in place. Wherever appropriate, support and training will be provided to facilitate achieving the required standards.

23.2 Policy

An employee who breaches any policy of the UNB may be subject to discipline ranging from a verbal or written warning, up to and including dismissal.

In the case of inappropriate behaviour, which is subject to discipline, employees will typically be written up a maximum of three times, before being terminated. However, where the severity of the offence warrants it, any step in the procedure may be omitted.

Supervisors are delegated to write up employees for a first warning. Managers must write up employees for a second warning. Only the Band Administrator and Director of External Relations are authorized to terminate an employee.

The final level of management for the purposes of disciplinary action is the Band Administrator and Director of External Relations. Council has no authority in relation to discipline, unless the allegations are against the Band Administrator, Director of External Relations or Chief Financial Officer.

The UNB will ensure that any discipline rendered is commensurate with the infraction.

23.2 Progressive Discipline Procedure

The following procedure will apply in the event of an allegation or incident that may warrant disciplinary action.

- 1) When it is felt that discipline is required to ensure fair and equitable treatment between employees, the Supervisor should immediately discuss the issue with the Band Administrator, Director of External Relations, and the HR Manager⁴ who will be involved throughout the process.
- 2) The Supervisor will obtain as much information as possible from all sources, which may include members of the community, staff, colleagues, and the employee against whom the allegations are made. This stage will be undertaken as quickly as possible, and the staff member will be advised that this is happening.
- 3) The information will be evaluated, and the Supervisor will determine whether any action is to be taken against the staff member.
- 4) Written warnings will be retained on the employee's personnel file for two years (at the discretion of the Band Administrator or Director of External Relations). Upon the request of the employee, records pertaining to discipline will be removed from the file, as long as there have been no further infractions in the two-year period.
- 5) Records of all meetings during the investigation will be maintained, and staff are entitled to have access to the notes of meetings they attend.
- 6) Appeals: If the employee wishes to appeal against any decision, this must be put in writing to the Band Administrator, Director of External Relations, together with reasons for the appeal.

23.3 Termination of Employment

Upon receipt of the report from the Chair of the Finance and Audit Committee or the Band Administrator, the Finance and Audit Committee will determine if it will conduct any further inquiry into the matter but in any event will make a report to the Council of the circumstances reporting to the Committee including the Committee's recommendations if any.

- b. The Finance and Audit Committee will actively monitor inquiries to ensure they are conducted in accordance with this policy.
- c. If the reported wrongdoing concerns a member of the Finance and Audit Committee, the Council will inquire into the matter or retain external expertise to conduct the inquiry.

26.6 Responding to wrongdoing and initiating remedial actions

- a. After considering the final report of the results of an inquiry, the Finance and Audit Committee will recommend a course of action to Council which will make a decision to resolve the issue as soon as practical.
- b. Resolution actions will be commensurate with the severity of the wrongdoing incurred, and can include reprimands, leave without pay, termination, revocation of appointment or other remediation as determined by the Council.
- c. Police will be contacted if activities of a criminal nature are identified.
- d. Recovery of UNB funds, either expended or forfeited, as a result of the wrongdoing as described in the Financial Administration Law will be tracked and collected from the responsible individual(s).

Dates of Amendment:

Cross Reference:

27.1 Policy Intent

Upper Nicola Band (UNB) is committed to providing equal treatment with respect to employment according to the protected grounds established under the Canadian Human Rights Act. UNB has adopted this policy to ensure that employees are provided with ethical, fair, and meaningful employment, in compliance with all applicable employment and human rights legislation.

27.2 Guidelines

Our Human Rights Policy is in place to ensure we provide a working environment that fosters openness and tolerance for all employees. This policy is intended to ensure that the practices of UNB and its employees are free from direct and indirect discrimination. Under the Act, employers have the ultimate responsibility to ensure a healthy and inclusive work environment, including preventing and addressing discrimination and harassment.

27.3 Prohibited Grounds of Discrimination

The following are the prohibited grounds of discrimination under the Act:

- Race,
- National or ethnic origin,
- Colour,
- Religion,
- Age,
- Sex,
- Sexual orientation,
- Gender identity or expression,
- Marital status,
- Family status,

- Genetic characteristics,
- Disability; and
- Conviction for an offence for which a pardon has been granted or in respect of which a record suspension has been ordered.

27.4 Accessibility in Employment

UNB is committed to providing accessibility across all stages of the employment cycle by removing barriers and creating a workplace that is accessible to all job candidates and employees. Any applicant to UNB who communicates the need for accommodation shall be considered in a manner that is non-discriminatory and respects our human rights obligations.

27.5 Accommodation

UNB will support the accommodation of employees and job applicants who require workplace accommodation under any of the grounds described in the Act. We will work to achieve a workplace free from barriers by providing accommodation for the needs of those individuals covered by the Act, up to the point where it causes undue hardship for UNB. Every effort will be made so that any accommodation will not discriminate against another group protected by the Act.

UNB shall provide accommodation as appropriate, using a consultative approach that involves UNB, the employee, and any applicable, healthcare professionals or other third parties required to assist in the accommodation process as appropriate. UNB will work with the employee who requests accommodation to ensure that the measures taken are both effective and mutually agreeable. UNB encourages employees to make any needs for accommodation known to their immediate supervisor, and to work with them in addressing the issue.

Accommodation may be temporary or permanent based on the requirements of the employee.

27.6 Accommodation Plans

Any employee requesting accommodation must make a request to their manager or supervisor. The manager or supervisor is responsible for ensuring that a written description of the accommodation plan is prepared for any employee.

UNB shall create an accommodation plan and attempt to determine alternative methods of achieving the requirements for success in the position.

In the creation of an accommodation plan, UNB shall:

- Identify the need for accommodation,
- Determine objectives for and potential barriers to performance in the role,
- Obtain expert advice where necessary,
- Create a plan for alternatively achieving the objectives,

- Examine the options for accommodation and select the most appropriate avenue for accommodation,
- Implement the accommodation process,
- Provide training as appropriate; and
- Review and revise based on feedback.

27.7 Investment in Materials

Where the accommodation required necessitates an investment in materials or equipment or an increased budget for the position, requests for financing must be directed to the Band Administrator.

27.8 Job Redesign

If the accommodation requires a substantial change in position, involving duties or hours, the position may be redesigned.

27.9 Complaint

If the employee requesting accommodation feels that their needs have not been reasonably met, they may file a written complaint. The complaint must be submitted to the Band Administrator. UNB will respond to any received complaint within 10 days.

27.10 Inability to Accommodate

If an employee cannot be accommodated in their current position, it will be reasonable to accommodate an employee in another position. Management will attempt to place the employee in another available position. This may require the assistance of third parties with specialized expertise.

Where an employee is placed in an alternative position, UNB shall ensure that the employee:

- Has the requisite qualifications and skills necessary for success in the position,
- Can perform the tasks associated with the position; and
- Agrees that the alternative work is acceptable.

27.11 Undue Hardship

UNB shall work to provide workplace accommodation up to the point of undue hardship. Undue hardship may occur where all options have been considered and it is established that no forms of appropriate accommodation exist, as accommodation would incur excessive costs or would create a health and safety hazard.

Where the provision of accommodation is found to cause undue hardship for the organization, UNB shall work to find a fair and equitable compromise that meets the needs of the employee and the organization to the greatest extent possible.

27.12 Reporting a Human Rights Issue

While UNB will follow the Act in all of its practices, it is essential that employees adhere to the Act as well. If any employee feels they are being discriminated against or that the Band is in violation of the Act, they may make a written complaint to the Band Administrator. If the complaint relates to the Band Administrator, the complaint may be made to Council. The written complaint must include the following information:

- The date and time of each incident the employee wishes to report,
- The name of the persons involved in each incident,
- The name of any persons who witnessed each incident; and
- A full description of what occurred.

27.13 Investigation

Once a written complaint has been received, UNB will complete a thorough investigation. If UNB determines discrimination (or another violation of the Act) has occurred, appropriate disciplinary measures will be taken immediately.

27.14 Confidentiality

All records of direct and indirect discrimination and harassment, reports filed, and subsequent investigations are considered confidential and will not be disclosed to anyone except to the extent required by law.

27.15 False or Frivolous Complaints

It is important to realize that unfounded or frivolous allegations of discrimination may cause both the accused person and the Band significant damage. If the Band determines that any employee has knowingly made false statements regarding an allegation of discrimination, immediate disciplinary action will be taken. As with any case of dishonesty, disciplinary action may include immediate dismissal.

Policy #: 28. Employment Equity

Date Approved:

Dates of Amendment:

Cross Reference:

28.1 Policy Intent

Upper Nicola Band (UNB) has adopted this policy to promote the full participation and advancement of members of the designated groups (women, indigenous peoples, members of visible minority groups, and persons with disabilities) under the Canadian Human Rights Act and Employment Equity Act in the UNB workforce.

28.2 Guidelines

UNB recognizes that Employment Equity is a value at the core of our mandate as a community leader and as an industry leading employer. UNB will take appropriate steps to ensure that, throughout the entire organization, representation rates of historically disadvantaged groups reflect their availability within the labour force of the external community.

All members of the community play a role in the success of Employment Equity. Final responsibility and accountability for UNB's Employment Equity Policy, however, rests with the Band Administrator.

28.3 Objectives

Under Employment Equity, UNB has the following objectives:

- a. To promote the full participation and advancement of members of the designated groups under the Canadian Human Rights Act and Employment Equity Act (women, indigenous peoples, members of visible minority groups and persons with disabilities) in the Upper Nicola Band workforce,
- b. Develop policies, programs, practices and traditions that facilitate the full participation and advancement of members of historically disadvantaged groups in Canada (indigenous peoples, visible minorities, ethnic minorities whose mother tongue is neither English nor French, persons with disabilities, women, and persons of minority sexual orientations and gender identities) by eliminating direct, indirect and systemic discrimination,

- c. To implement such special measures as are required to attract, retain and promote members of the designated groups and to ensure that individuals in positions to make or influence decisions regarding the status or working conditions of current and prospective employees are aware of such special measures and have received training in their application,
- d. To identify those areas of the UNB workforce wherein members of the designated groups are under-represented and to focus special measures to redress such under-representation and to ensure that individuals in positions to make or influence decisions regarding the status or working conditions of current and prospective employees are aware of such special measures and have received training in their application,
- e. To ensure that individuals in positions to make or influence decisions regarding the status or working conditions of current and prospective employees are aware of this policy and have received training in its meaning and application, that they implement its core values in all decisions and that they communicate and apply them to all members of staff,
- f. To collect and analyze workforce data, develop a formal employment equity plan, and prepare an annual report which will contain specific recommendations for action to be undertaken by the senior officers of this organization and which will detail the progress of those recommendations,
- g. Recruit and retain staff on the basis of individual merit and achievement, while ensuring that all persons and, in particular, members of designated groups, will have genuine, open, and unhindered access to employment opportunities free from artificial barriers,
- h. Achieve equality in the workplace so that no member of a designated group is denied employment opportunities or benefits for reasons unrelated to ability by giving effect to the principle that employment equity means more than treating persons in the same way but also requires special measures and the accommodation of differences.

In furtherance of these commitments, UNB will:

- i. Continue to build a diverse workforce that is representative of the pool of potential candidates with appropriate qualifications from designated groups, while retaining individual merit and achievement as the prime criterion for all staffing decisions,
- ii. Ensure that all employment related decisions are based on principles of individual merit and achievement (that is, on such matters as job performance criteria such as skills, knowledge, and abilities relevant to specific positions) and not on factors unrelated to a person's ability to do the job,
- iii. Ensure that UNB regulations, policies and practices do not have an adverse impact, direct or indirect, on the employment and advancement of members of designated groups,

- iv. Seek to increase the range of applicants for all staff positions to reflect the diversity of the pool of potential candidates with appropriate qualifications from designated groups,
- v. Ensure that, where candidates do not differ in merit, employment decisions are guided by the UNB policy on employment equity,
- vi. Seek to make reasonable adjustments for differences related to belonging to a designated group thereby enabling them to compete equally with others; and
- vii. Identify those sectors of the UNB workforce wherein members of the designated groups are under-represented and to develop measures to address such under-representation.

28.4 Implementation

UNB will ensure the implementation of this policy by:

- a. Developing an employment equity plan appropriate to each employee sector together with guidelines to assist those who make employment decisions in implementing the plan,
- b. Ensuring that these plans address equity in the hiring, promotion, and recognition in all sectors of the workforce,
- c. Ensuring that those in positions to make or influence employment decisions are aware of UNB's employment equity policy and the employment equity plan relevant to their sector,
- d. Ensuring that all "position requirements" constitute bona fides and necessary requirements for the position advertised,
- e. Requiring appropriate units to report on the status of employment equity within the unit; and
- f. Ensuring that the heads of units actively support Upper Nicola Band's initiatives in furtherance of the objectives of this Policy.

However, in its pursuit of employment equity it is understood that UNB will not:

- i. Engage in Reverse Discrimination - Employment equity works to change the composition of a workforce so it better reflects that of society. Employment equity is not reverse discrimination, which occurs when a less qualified candidate is hired over a better qualified one.
- ii. Impose Quotas - Employment equity does not involve the imposition of quotas for the hiring of members from designated groups. Rather, its goal is the enlargement of the pool of appropriately qualified candidates by encouraging applications from a broader range of persons, and all candidates within this pool then compete for the position.

12	71.60	80.55	89.45	98.40	107.35

Criteria for Grades

Grade 1: Level entry or manual work with no formal qualifications, or training positions to give experience. Working under supervision and more direct support.

Grade 2: Grade 12, preferable with certificate: level entry, follows procedures but room for development and growth.

Grade 3: Grade 12 and post-secondary education: diploma preferred. 2-3 years previous experience. Some independent judgement.

Grade 4: Technical function with some form of certification/license, technical skills and experience (1-2 years). Work may incur difficult conditions.

Grade 5: Supervisor or team leader: diploma or certification required plus 2-3 years' experience; technical functions require certification; broad function with greater responsibility than technicians at a grade 4.

Grade 6: Degree preferred or specific professional certification with 1-3 years' experience in managing/supervising: manages a program area or acts as Team Lead

Grade 7: Degree required and/or specific professional certification with 3-5 years' experience: manages a program and/or provides clinical services; broader scope than a grade 6

Grade 8: Masters preferred: Bachelor degree essential plus min of 5 years senior leadership experience, likely additional professional certification. Responsibilities for resources across several programs.

Grade 9: Masters required or Executive level (accountable to Chief and Council): senior leadership and responsibilities across program areas.

Criteria for placement on the grid

These are guidelines for application of the range and discretion will be required. Minimum qualifications and/or experience for that grade. Will require additional training to meet

Min	the minimum preferred requirements. Is new to this job and/or UNB.
Step 1	1-2 years' experience above the minimum, preferred qualifications/certification are all met, requires less direct supervision/direction.
Step 2	2-4 years' experience above the minimum.
Step 3	Meets all required qualifications and 5 years' experience above the minimum. Has undertaken ongoing professional and/or technical training to remain current.
max	Meets all required qualifications and experience in a similar environment and has worked at that level previously, demonstrating all competencies.

Notes:

- Typically (though there is discretion), in moving from one grade to another through promotion into another function etc, the lowest step that gives an overall increase would be the most applicable.
- There may also be discretion to reflect someone's ongoing, long-term commitment to the UNB (e.g. that janitor that has been there loyally for 20 years).
- Further, if there are staff on the same grade and one is seen as "more senior" because of part of the job (e.g. the ECEs), this would warrant higher placement in the range.
- It may be appropriate for managers to make the recommendations BUT for final decisions on the placement along the range, the Band Administrator and/or Director of External Relations should make those decisions (preferably together, at least initially, to ensure ongoing parity across positions and departments).
- Movement along the range may also be appropriate when someone takes on additional responsibilities that are not sufficiently broad as to warrant a higher grade e.g. supervising one person or taking extra training (e.g. the Special Ed Teachers Assistant taking on some teaching (assuming she has the certificate).

6. Also consider relativities to other staff on the grid to ensure fairness in relation to years at UNB and relative experience and contribution to the community, in that job.
7. Ultimately in the future, it may be feasible to include an element of evaluation/merit pay, but that would be a longer-term strategy and the organization needs to be in a position to develop such a structure. (including training for managers who would be responsible for making decisions on merit increases). This grid, as written, may offer sufficient flexibility to implement that.
8. Training and development that leads to moving up the grid would be determined through the usual UNB processes such as a training needs assessment and/or personnel evaluations, probationary performance or delegation of additional tasks for which some training is required.
9. Movement up the range should not be perceived as "automatic" or a given.

Appendix C – Investigation Guidelines

These Guidelines have been developed to assist managers in the investigation of issues pertaining to Grievance, Workplace Harassment etc.

The Legal Framework

As an employer, the UNB has an obligation to:

1. Provide a harassment-free work environment
2. Take action when inappropriate workplace behaviours occur
3. Implement a policy (or policies) and procedures and investigate complaints
4. Encourage and facilitate managers to implement the policy and all employees to follow policy
5. Take active steps to address complaints and prevent a repetition of the behaviour
6. Accept liability for the actions of employees while on UNB business.

The legal rights and obligations of the Complainant and Respondents include:

1. An obligation to follow the UNB Policy and Procedures
2. The right to a harassment-free workplace
3. The right to receive fair and equitable treatment
4. The right to file a complaint in a variety of forums (including through UNB Policy, the Human Rights Tribunal, the courts and/or WorkSafe BC).

The Roles and Responsibilities of an Internal Investigator comprise:

1. Acting in an unbiased, impartial manner
2. Understanding and following policy and procedures
3. Conducting the investigation fairly and respectfully.

As such, the Investigator should be:

1. Perceived by others as fair
2. Knowledgeable about the issues (e.g. human rights and harassment, grievances)
3. Skilled at interviewing and respectful of other people
4. Empathetic but impartial
5. Thorough and conscientious.

Therefore the Band Administrator or Director of External Relations will identify an appropriate person (a manager or external consultant) to investigate grievances and/or workplace complaints.

Issues to Consider

The Band Administrator or Director of External Relations, in conjunction with the Investigator, will determine if the employee accused of the wrongdoing (the Respondent) should be temporarily removed from the workplace, to enable a fair investigation. If so, they may be asked to work from a different location (i.e. they are not suspended from duty).

The Investigator:

1. The Investigator should act quickly to start the process, but ensure the parties are aware that these investigations may take time.
2. The role is to explain the process to the complainant and the respondents and explain their respective rights and obligations.

3. The Investigator will ensure this is a confidential process (be aware of the difference between confidential and anonymous), and will interview all relevant parties and allow the respondent to reply to the allegations.
4. The Investigator will collect, collate, and analyse all relevant information and ensure the parties are kept apprised of the developments.
5. The Investigator will make a determination based on the balance of probabilities.

Investigation Process

Phase 1: Planning:

1. Review the complaint
2. Identify potential witnesses
3. Inform interviewees of the process and schedule their interviews (each witness separately); book rooms that allow privacy (avoid telephone interviews). Schedule the Complainant first.
4. Allow adequate time and appropriate location.
5. Prepare the questions for each witness, including the Complainant and the Respondent.
6. Determine the methodology for documenting the interviews and for obtaining other information (such as getting the witnesses to draw diagrams etc.).

Phase 2: The Interviews

1. Arrive early and prepare the room to create a comfortable but professional environment.
2. Provide water.
3. Ensure demeanour is professional but not intimidating
4. Ensure the witness is welcomed and the interview is opened appropriately.
5. Build a rapport by starting with easier questions (context etc.)
6. Avoid leading questions, keeping questions short and clear.
7. Be prepared to question answers that are unclear and/or contradictory.
8. Maintain control of the interview.
9. Be impassive to emotions and disclosures.
10. Determine if others can verify the witness' statements and ensure this is followed up.
11. Determine if independent documentary evidence is available and ensure it is considered in the decision.
12. In concluding the interview (a) ensure the witness knows how to contact you (b) remind the witness of the next steps/timelines (c) remind the witness of the need for confidentiality and obligations re non-retaliation and (d) thank the witness for their time and cooperation.

Phase 3: Determination

1. Review all materials and follow up with additional documentation as required.
2. Consider the credibility (including objectivity) of each witness and their information.
3. Assess the evidence and determine if the complaint is valid based on the balance of probabilities (and whether a reasonable and informed person would recognize as a reasonable decision).
4. Write a summary report for the Band Administrator or Director of External Relations, including recommendations.
5. The Band Administrator or Director of External Relations will make a decision regarding the recommendations and will ensure notification is made to the Complainant and the Respondent of the results of the investigation, the action that will follow and the timeline for monitoring the actions.
